

Duality

Why Earth's ascension is different

Inhoud

Incarnating on Earth .....	2
Ascension Scenario 1: Closing the Lemurian hole .....	3
Ascension Scenario 2: Connecting with the lost Lemurian part.....	4
Ascension Scenario 3: No ascension at all.....	5
How to help Earth.....	5

Incarnating on Earth

When a planet intends ascension by opening its chakra's to other solar systems, species that have helped other planets to ascend and are in reach, will respond. They have experience on how to ascend a planet. It is all about connecting the planet to the universal consciousness grid, by aligning and tuning its vibration with the most nearby grid line. The planet will start to resonate with the grid-line, allowing it's consciousness to expand and communicate with other nodes in the grid.

So when Earth started to reach out and asking for a consciousness raise, multiple species incarnated on Earth to help it align its vibration with the nearest grid line. Only this time it isn't a "standard"-procedure, because Earth still suffers from the Lemurian Split.

When we follow Earth's origin, it isn't a normal planet like other undeveloped planets. It has actually ascended before, when it still was Lemuria. But this ascension failed because of the Lemurian war, that caused the planet to explode in two pieces. These two pieces went adrift leaving one part in our solar system.

Earth's consciousness did not fall back. It still had the imprint of the lost part of Lemuria, causing a hole with the intention to be filled, to become whole again. This hole is so strong, it actually separated the planets consciousness in an active part, and a dormant part. The split of Earth's consciousness, is the origin of duality. Earth is still waiting for the other half of Lemuria to join and a dual consciousness is now active. The imprint of the hole and the remainder of the planet are the same.

So what happens if ascended species incarnate on Earth? Normally, the incarnation of the full consciousness occurs, allowing a quick alignment with the planet's intent and goal. But now on Earth, only half of the consciousness can incarnate, causing the same consciousness split that Earth suffers from too. And this is something new for the ascended beings that incarnate. They have no experience in being un-whole and how to deal with this.

Most of the ascended beings that incarnate have a new experience since they intent to fill the hole that is reserved for the other part of Lemuria. But the intention of Earth to become whole again, must be respected causing a part of them to also form a hole (or go dormant). Earth's intention to ascend is still active and is possible with some ascension scenario's.

Ascension Scenario 1: Closing the Lemurian hole

Earth has the possibility to heal the pain from the Lemurian split. She needs to allow new live inside the Lemurian hole. This will help Earth in seeing her dual intention by keeping the hole closed for anything other than her twin. Since live is all about living and not about freezing, Earth was only living at 50% of its consciousness.

The first step that Earth took was acknowledgment of the pain, the split had caused. She initially fought against any live that wanted to fill the hole, but that actually caused more problems. Because she wouldn't face the big hole, she closed her eyes for it.

But now, she opened her eyes and intents to see what she hasn't been living. This allowed ascended beings that were also split, to reconnect with the hole in themselves. This can be a painful process since the dual parts haven't been in synch. Sometimes they are so far disconnected, that they don't even recognize each other and they start to battle for existence. They think that only one of them can exist but that is an illusion. They both have the right to exist and have the right to merge.

The next step Earth can take is stop making Lemuria responsible for filling the gap. Lemuria has grown on its own, just as Earth did. It is there for very likely that he has evolved on its own. It is better for them to connect as friends, than to fight as lovers for existence.

The last step for Earth is to fully intent ascension on her own. She is grown and matured and ready to travel among the grid.

Ascension Scenario 2: Connecting with the lost Lemurian part

Another scenario that is available for Earth is to keep waiting for the lost Lemurian part. Since Earth has been living her dark-side, she is also learning a lot about her lost Lemurian side. The more she learns, the more she recognizes he is the same as her. This will help her in the search for her twin because she will understand the path to follow, to reach Lemuria.

Since Earth still misses the connection with Lemuria, this is her preferred path. It is why she opened up in the first place, to help her find her twin. Since ascension provides a way to re-connect, it is that part that resonated with the species willing to help the ascension.

But now that reconnecting has become a pre-requisite for ascension, the planet is not yet ready until it is reunited. That is why the search for Lemuria is so important, because it still is the will of Earth that must be followed.

The beings incarnated to help Earth to ascend, need to learn everything about Earth and with this knowledge, a grid search can be performed to find the lost twin of Earth. It is a question if Lemuria is found and even willing to connect with Earth, but as long Earth wants this the search will continue.

If Lemuria is found, and willing to reconnect with Earth, the first step towards ascension is made. They first need to connect and if they even recognize each other they can now set the next step in ascension. They need to decide on their own if they want to ascent together, or by themselves.

Ascension Scenario 3: No ascension at all

The last scenario is possible if Earth decides not to ascend at all. This can happen for example if Earth still wants to connect with Lemuria, but doesn't recognize her own twin. They have grown so far apart that there is no connection possible. Since Earth doesn't recognize her twin, she keeps searching for something that doesn't exist. Causing no ascension at all.

It is also possible that Lemuria has already ascended and is waiting for Earth on the other side. If Earth keeps searching for Lemuria on the other side forever, no ascension is possible. The search on itself is a lost cause, but it is still a possible choice.

Another possibility is just that Earth doesn't want to ascend for her own reasons. We can only respect her decision and let it be.

How to help Earth

Since you are here and have the intention to help Earth ascending, there are two scenarios above that Earth can choose from. First task is to let Earth feel the possible scenarios that she can choose from. She can then decide on what is best for her, and how it can be achieved. We also have to let her know what she can expect when ascending, because there is still some fear left from the last failure.

Another important task is getting in touch with Lemuria and recognize him correctly. We need to know his state and if he wishes to rejoin with Earth. Whatever we find out, Earth has the right to know in order to make a proper decision.

Whatever Earth decides, it is our task to respect this decision and take our own responsibility. If it's time to go and move on, it is just that. But until no decision is final, feel welcome to help Earth ascending.